Allow customers to choose their seats

Oztix is proud to launch Reserved Seating, our powerful software upgrade especially designed for venues and events who want their customers to choose their seats or allotment.

Our world-class ticketing system just got an upgrade from our existing 'best available' seating feature, to a new customer-centric 'choose your seat.'

This new feature offers flexible configurations and seat management tools designed to sell more tickets.

Built on Partnerships

Tailored to Your Needs

From 20+ years of experience, we know every venue and event has its own distinct goals and software integration needs.

That's why we adopt a co-design approach, working closely with our clients to create solutions that align with your specific objectives. We believe in flexibility over a one-size-fits-all model.

When you consult with Oztix, you'll work directly with our executive leaders, who bring over 15 years of expertise at Oztix and more than two decades in the events industry. Our team is dedicated to providing a seamless experience and a solution built around your unique requirements.
